

REIN IN SARCOMA

Increase awareness. Increase survivors.

Position Announcement: Executive Director – Rein in Sarcoma

Rein in Sarcoma (reininsarcoma.org) is initiating a search for an Executive Director to continue their mission to educate the public and medical community about Sarcoma cancers, supporting patients and their loved ones, and funding research directed towards new treatments and finding cures for sarcoma cancers.

Rein in Sarcoma

Rein in Sarcoma (RIS) is a resource for patients and families touched by sarcomas, an uncommon and often delayed diagnosed group of bone and soft tissue cancers that strike children and adults alike. RIS is a nationally known sarcoma foundation and provides global support to patients and loved ones. The Foundation has reached thousands of people and continues to grow increasing sarcoma awareness to improve patient outcomes and save lives.

Our three-pronged mission

Finding and Funding Cures for Sarcoma Cancers:

- Funded 81 grants for over 2M in innovative, high impact research at top universities and medical institutions leveraging over 13.4M in additional sarcoma research grant awards.
- Research grants supported by fundraising efforts include golf events, annual galas, named funds, corporate sponsorships, and individual donors.
- Most sarcoma patients are served at the University of Minnesota, Mayo Clinic and Children's Hospitals and Clinics of Minnesota.

Education:

- Jan Maudlin Scholar Program awards annual scholarships for medical students at the University of Minnesota, Mayo Clinic, University of Wisconsin, Medical College of Wisconsin medical schools in support of educating the medical community and public about sarcoma cancers.
- Funded positions expanded to include Mayo Clinic Arizona and Mayo Clinic Florida this fall.

- RIS Medical Advisory Board is comprised of sarcoma experts that provide guidance and support for educational materials and resources.
- Sarcoma Patient Education Guidebooks distributed to patients nationwide.
- Ongoing campaigns educate the public, promote early detection, and ultimately save lives. Our Rein in Sarcoma YouTube channel houses many educational videos and patient stories.

Patient and Family Support

- Dedicated to supporting sarcoma patients, survivors, and those who have lost a loved one to sarcoma.
- Year-round events, peer to peer in-person and virtual mentoring connect all those impacted by sarcoma.
- Patient support bags and small grants for patients in active treatment.
- Grief support resources.

Rein in Sarcoma has evolved from an all-volunteer organization founded by Karen Wyckoff twenty-two years ago to the largest and best-known sarcoma foundation in the Midwest. Her dream of “a world without sarcoma cancers” lives on through a compassionate and dedicated team committed to increasing awareness, improving patient outcomes, and saving lives.
